

Dispersed Camping-Lundy Canyon & Crestview

Welcome to the Inyo National Forest. In general, the area from Mono Lake south towards the Crestview area and east of Hwy 395 is open to dispersed camping. Be aware, however, that forest service roads wind throughout Bureau of Land Management, National Forest, and privately-owned lands and that the latter are off limits to camping. Areas open to dispersed camping have a 28-day stay limit per six-month period and are free of charge. Some sites—such as Sagehen Meadows, Crooked Meadows, Taylor Canyon, Sawmill Meadows, and Bald Mountain Springs—are equipped with pit toilets and picnic tables. Within the Lee Vining and Lundy Canyon areas as well as the June Lake Loop, dispersed camping is illegal and campers must stay within developed campgrounds.

MONO LAKE

Camping around Mono Lake and its shore is allowed but you must select a site that is above the 1941 shoreline (roughly where the brushy vegetation begins). For those individuals wanting to camp at the eastern shore of the lake, be advised that the 4-wheel drive route that circumvents the lake is primitive at best and incredibly sandy; only experienced 4-wheel drivers with high clearance vehicles should attempt it. At the South Tufa Reserve, Navy Beach, Mono Mills, Mono County Park, Old Marina, and Panum Crater parking lot, camping is prohibited. In addition, private property is also off-limits to dispersed camping. Check with the staff at the Mono Basin Visitor Center for more information about where you can and cannot camp.

CAMPFIRES

Should you decide to have a campfire, barbecue, or to use a stove not contained within an RV/camper, you must possess a valid California State Campfire Permit. You can obtain these free of charge at any Forest Service, BLM, or California Department of Forestry office or on-line at www.preventwildfireca.org. When fire restrictions are in effect, campfires are not permitted but the use of gas-operated cook stoves is allowable. Since fire regulations and restrictions can change at any time, it is best to contact the Mono Basin Scenic Area Visitor Center for current conditions at (760) 647-3044.

WILDLIFE

Because bears and rodents may be a problem in any camping area, federal law requires that food be properly stored. Any item with an odor (cosmetics, soap, sunscreen, toothpaste, bug spray, etc.) should be stored in a bear canister or at the very least, hidden and contained in your vehicle. Unfortunately, bear lockers are not available in dispersed camping areas.

Rodents such as ground squirrels and chipmunks should not be handled or fed as they are known to carry diseases. Offering food handouts doesn't do them any favors: Remember, a fed animal is a dead animal! Federal law prohibits the feeding of wild animals.

LOW-IMPACT CAMPING

Please do your part to protect our fragile resources by utilizing the following practices:

- Select a campsite at least 100ft. (40 paces) from all water sources
- Keep your vehicle on established roads
- Purify all drinking water with a filter or iodine tablets
- All washing must be done away from water sources
- Deposit waste water at least 100ft. from a water source (R.V.s must utilize dump stations)
- Bury human waste at least 6 inches deep and more than 200ft, from a water source
- Use existing fire rings, keep campfires small and make sure your campfire is completely out
- Pack out all of your trash
- Do not feed the wildlife

LEAVE NO TRACE

SUGGESTED MAPS

Inyo National Forest Map, 1993, Rev. 2010

United States Department of Agriculture

USDA is an equal opportunity provider, employer, and lender.

Mono Basin and Vicinity Dispersed Camping Map

= Areas closed to disperse camping

In addition, private land, wilderness areas and developed sites such as picnic grounds are off limits to dispersed camping.

